ZONE BID A CHANCE FOR JOBS BOOM

THOUSANDS of jobs could be created in Harlow if a plan to transform part of the town's industrial area into a 'silicon valley' for high-tech manufacturing firms wins Government backing.

Harlow Council, Essex County Council and the West Essex Alliance – a private sector-led group set up to promote economic growth across the region – have drawn up draft proposals to create a sprawling 126-acre enterprise zone offering subsidised business rates and relaxed planning regulations to medical technology and advanced manufacturing companies.

The zone would incorporate a 57-acre mixed-use site off London Road – including the former Nortel campus – and a 69-acre industrial area covering the north-eastern corner of Templefields.

Although both sites are privately-owned, the land is already designated for business use and the partnership is confident of securing the support of landowners and stakeholders.

Harlow Council claims a total of 4,900 jobs could be created across the zone and estimates the scheme could ultimately account for one in every 10 jobs in Harlow.

Concern at county's decision to shut six children's homes

A CARE home in Harlow for abused and vulnerable children is one of six set to be closed by Essex County Council.

The young residents could be moved into private care by the end of September after the cash-strapped council failed to find anyone willing to manage the homes – which cost around £7.5m a year to run – on its behalf.

Although County Hall refused to say how many are currently accommodated at the Harlow home, the Star understands the closures across the county will affect a total of 29 children and up to 131 members of staff.

Sarah Candy, Essex County Council's cabinet member for children's services, said the youngsters would be moved to alternative accommodation based on their individual needs and that care staff would be redeployed "where possible".

"The young people who currently live in the six homes have in place individual care plans which for some already includes moving on to other placements or leaving care altogether," she said.

"As part of their statutory review process, all the young people will be involved in deciding the type of placement they move on to."

But county councillor Tony Durcan, who represents the Harlow West division at County Hall, said he was deeply concerned about the planned closures and planned to challenge the authority's decision.

"I am calling on the county council to pause for thought on its plans," he said. "I want them to consider the possibility of working closely with voluntary organisations such as Barnado's to continue providing the level of care these young people so desperately need."

"I also question the wisdom of putting vulnerable children into a private care industry that is already struggling to cope with limited resources."

Firm appointed to update park plans

Enterprise zone bid offers hope of a jobs boom

holder for regeneration and enterprise, told the Star the plans built upon the town's long-standing reputation as a base for high-tech and research companies.

"Harlow already has a great name in technology and is superbly placed between London and Cambridge, with all the road, rail and air links any company could want," he said.

"It takes the advantages we already have to the next level and sets the scene for a major boost in employment. I hope the clear merits of this application put it before central Government."

West Essex Alliance chairman John Spence added: "Harlow has terrific qualities and potential and an enterprise zone would enable us to take a great step towards our ambitions."

"The bid has been identified as key priority by all parties in the West Essex Alliance. This application helps us to highlight to others nationally and in the south east just what the area has to offer."

Whitehall has committed to backing 10 enterprise zones across the UK. The Harlow bid is one of six currently being considered by the Local Enterprise Partnership covering Essex, East Sussex, Kent, Medway, Southend and Thurrock. The panel is due to decide today (Thursday) which application to put forward for consideration by Government. Harlow MP Rob Halfon said he felt the bid had a "very good chance" of making it to the next stage.

"There has been a tremendous amount of hard work put into this bid and it looks very strong," he said. "Obviously it's still at a very early stage, but this could be a massive boost for the local economy, opening the door to new businesses and potentially creating thousands of new jobs."

"It's a round peg for a round hole. The plans build upon Harlow's excellent reputation as a base for these kind of industries so I think the bid stands a very good chance of making it through the selection process."

MOVES to give Harlow Town Park a major facelift gathered pace this week after senior councillors appointed a private consultant to refresh proposals for the extensive overhaul.

At a meeting of Harlow Council's cabinet on Thursday, members unanimously agreed to pay the firm almost £50,000 to update a draft masterplan originally drawn up in 2008.

The deal will be funded by a £48,000 Heritage Lottery Fund grant secured last year following a successful application to the Parks For People programme.

Following a 10-day "standstill period" during which other firms invited to tender for the contract can appeal, the approved consultant will start work on revising the existing plans.

These include the restoration of Spurriers House and the renovation of the bandstand and Pets' Corner.

Other proposals for the park include the construction of an enhanced education centre, a new picnic and café area, improved access routes, upgraded signage and new schemes to encourage community participation in the area.

The team of landscape and building architects are expected to complete their work by February next year, at which point the council will submit the revised plans to Parks For People with the intention of securing further Lottery funding to pay for the second phase of the project's delivery.

Tony Hall, portfolio holder for the environment, said: "The Town Park has always been a jewel in the crown of Harlow and is an essential part of our heritage."

"But Harlow was always meant to evolve as a town, so we are going forward with the plans we've already consulted on extensively to update and renew the park."

"We look forward to working with Harlow Civic Society and the Town Park Users Group to take the Heritage Lottery Fund proposals to the next level."

Pensioner back in jail for child porn offences

A PENSIONER who downloaded more than 900 images of child pornography onto his computer has been jailed for a second time.

Terence Currie (75), of Kiln Road, North Weald, was sentenced to 12 months in prison at Chelmsford Crown Court on Friday after he pleaded guilty to two charges of downloading images and one of possession.

The court heard he had already served an eight-month prison sentence in 2005 for possessing, making and taking indecent photos. After he was released he had been seen regularly by public protection officers, but when they turned up at his home last July he told them he had "let them down".

Police then inspected his computer and seized a memory stick on which they found hundreds of indecent images and a video.

The court was told that 720 images categorised as level one – the most serious – were discovered, as well as 117 at level two, 17 at level three, 54 at level four and one at level five. The video was rated at level two.

James Burley, representing Currie, said in mitigation the defendant suffered from serious health problems including high blood pressure and diabetes.

But sending Currie back to prison, Judge Laura Harris told him he had "learned nothing" from his previous spell behind bars.

Mick saddles up for Heroes charity stunt

A MAN who lost both his legs when he was struck by a train will be helping to drive a replica First World War ambulance the length of Britain to raise £1m for wounded servicemen and women.

Mick Folds (59), of Potter Street, Harlow, was hit by a train while working on the track at Harlow Mill station four years ago.

The former soldier is a keen horse rider whose horse, Kez, will join him on the 1,000-mile fundraising trek which began on Tuesday.

"Over the past four years I've tried to keep my life as normal as possible and still do nearly everything I did before, just a bit worse and slower," he said.

By VICKY LANE
vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

"I have always loved horse riding and through BLESMA – the British Limbless Ex Service Men's Association – I have done a few events like this now to help support other wounded service men and women in a similar way to how the group have supported me."

The latest initiative, organised by Horses Help Heroes in support of Help for Heroes, is a world record attempt for carriage driving by a mixed team of both wounded and able-bodied drivers and outriders. Along with a support crew, the group plan to drive the horse-drawn ambulance from Land's End to John O'Groats non-stop for 10 days.

"I'm really looking forward to it and hoping to help raise a lot of money," said Mike.

"I will be both riding Kez alongside the carriage and helping to drive the ambulance. All the team will be collecting money in buckets along the way to try and reach the £1m goal."

He added: "It's a great cause and I'm sure we'll have a great time meeting different people in all the different places along the way. I just hope as many as possible support our efforts."

Legion's celebration of 90th anniversary

THE Harlow branch of the Royal British Legion is inviting the whole town to join its celebrations for its 90th anniversary year.

Members will be holding a birthday extravaganza to mark the anniversary of the organisation which has been providing support for current and former members of the Armed Forces and their dependents since 1921.

The celebration, which takes place at the Radburn Pavilion in Lutton Common Road, Harlow, on Sunday, will feature a live band as well as stalls and children's rides.

Event committee member Sandra West said: "Everyone is welcome to come along; the more the merrier."

"We just hope to have a really big, fun celebration of all the great work that has been done by the Royal British Legion since it began in 1921."

The extravaganza takes place from noon – 5pm. All money raised will go towards the cost of the branch's Festival of Remembrance held at Harlow Playhouse in November.

It's fun all the way at school's summer fete

MINI pony rides, a bouncy castle and plate smashing are just some of the attractions to keep the crowds entertained at Harlow Fields School's summer fete this weekend.

Saturday's event, which will take place in the school grounds in Tendring Road, will also feature an African drum workshop, various games and food stalls.

Louise Lynch, co-vice chairman of the school's parent teacher association, said: "We would love for as many people as possible to come along and join us at this year's fete."

"It is a really special day for the children as it is one of the few events where they feel comfortable and are able to really take part."

She added: "Any money made for the school would be a bonus, but it is mainly about bringing everyone together to have a really good, fun day."

The summer fete takes place from noon-3pm. Admission is 50p for adults and 25p for children.

Hospice lottery result

Couple turn to pedal power for blood cancer research

A COUPLE are taking part in London's biggest charity bike ride to support people affected by blood cancers.

Rebecca Few (27) and her fiancé Tom Wynne (27), along with friend Tim Crispin, signed up for Sunday's 26-mile London Bikeathon to raise money for the charity Leukaemia & Lymphoma Research following Tom's two-year battle with Hodgkin's lymphoma.

Tom, who was diagnosed with the condition two years ago after finding several lumps in his neck, received the all-clear a few months ago and is now back at work as an actuary in London.

"It has been a very scary couple of years," said Rebecca, a trainee architect. "To have someone you love suddenly diagnosed with such a serious condition is terrifying."

"It really can happen to anyone. Tom has always been a very active, healthy person and then suddenly he was diagnosed with cancer."

"We are just very appreciative that our story had a happy ending."

The couple, who live in Grove Road, Epping, are hoping to raise more than £700 for the charity.

"I looked in to the work that Leukaemia & Lymphoma Research carries out and it seemed the most appropriate choice to raise funds for them," added Rebecca.

"If people going through a similar thing can take comfort from our story or benefit from the money that we raise for further research into blood cancers then we've done a really great thing."

To sponsor Rebecca, Tom and Tim, visit their fundraising page at www.justgiving.com/Team-Tommo.

Messages from the heart show pride in Harlow

A GROUP representing Harlow's Christian community is calling on residents to share what they love about the town.

Heart 4 Harlow wants people to fill in a heart-shaped poster with a drawing or photo which will then be put on display in the Harvey Centre.

Rev Robert Findlay said:

"Whether it is a place, a person or an event, we want people to draw or stick a photo or cutting in the middle of their heart and write a brief description on the back of the poster to show what they treasure about Harlow," he said.

"We believe that by sharing what we cherish about the town we can together be proud of Harlow."

Posters are available for collection from the Heart 4 Harlow shop on the second floor of the Harvey Centre or from the Star office in West Gate.

There will also be a collection point at the Praise in the Park event which is taking place at the bandstand in Harlow Town Park on Sunday, July 3 from noon to 9pm.

The final Scene

NEWSPAPER publisher Archant has announced the closure of Harlow Scene along with similar titles in Hertford and Ware, Broxbourne and Bishop's Stortford.

The publications, which had a distribution of 55,000 copies, were launched as "news-zines" last September as a replacement for the Harlow Herald and East Herts Herald.

Announcing that last Thursday's editions would be the last, editorial director Paul Richardson said the decision was down to "continuing tough market conditions and increasing business costs", including a 25 per cent year-on-year increase in the price of newsprint.

The papers were based in Stevenage.

Shopper sickened by prawn salad surprise

SHOCKED: James Andrew found a live cockroach in his ASDA prawn salad (photo: HAR0746495)

SHOP worker James Andrew got more than he bargained for when he started tucking into a salad he bought from a Harlow supermarket.

James (28) purchased the prawn mayonnaise salad from ASDA to eat during his lunch break, but after taking a few bites he noticed that something wasn't quite right.

"I had eaten a few mouthfuls when I stopped because I thought saw something moving," he said.

"Then suddenly I saw this live cockroach wriggling around in the mayonnaise.

"I was completely shocked and immediately spat out everything that was in my mouth. It was absolutely disgusting and made me feel sick."

James, who works at the Three mobile phone store in the Harvey Centre, took his lunchtime snack back to the store to complain and was told by a member of staff the salads were made fresh on site every morning.

"The staff were all really shocked when they saw the live cockroach," said James. "They made me fill out a form and said they would be investigating the incident.

"They also offered me another salad but to be honest I'd lost my appetite by then!"

A week later James received

By VICKY LANE

vicky.lane@hertssexnews.co.uk

a letter from ASDA apologising for the incident and offering a £10 gift voucher as a gesture of goodwill.

"I was quite insulted by the letter I received from ASDA," said James. "It was very generic; they didn't even spell my name right!"

"It would have been nice to have been given some reassurance they have actually investigated the problem. Where there is one cockroach there are normally more. How can they be sure there isn't an infestation at the store?"

An ASDA spokeswoman this week confirmed the store was investigating the incident.

"We work hard to make sure our products are in the best possible condition for our customers to enjoy, but on this occasion we let Mr Andrew down, and we are sorry for this," she told the Star.

"We have strict quality controls and are working with our suppliers to understand how this could have happened.

"We have also been in touch with Mr Andrew to apologise and offer a goodwill gesture of £35 and hope he will continue to buy his lunch at our store."

Fun day aims to make life a little easier for disabled tot

SUPPORTERS of a charity set up to help a Harlow tot born with a life-limiting condition are holding a fun day this weekend.

Spinal Muscular Atrophy Type 2, a degenerative illness which stops her from standing, walking or bearing any weight.

Money raised at Saturday's Rae of Sunshine event will go towards the £30,000 needed for building work to make her bedroom and the bathroom at her home in Broadfields wheelchair accessible.

Rae's mum Tanya said: "It is sure to be a really great day for all the family. TV psychic Wayne Isaacs will be there, as well as local groups Focus disco and Triple X.

"There will also be a raffle, bouncy castle, craft stalls and much more."

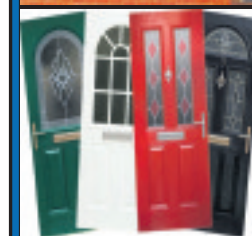

The fun day, which this year is also supporting the Annabelle Rose Foundation, takes place at Harlow Rugby Club in Elizabeth Way from noon-5pm.

Ear we go again as

THE rain that earlier in the day had threatened to spoil Saturday's Midnight Walk turned into a sea of pink as more than 1,250 people converged on Harlow town centre for this year's St Clare Hospice fundraiser.

Women, men, children, dogs dressed in pink tutus and hoodies and even police officers wearing flashing bunny ears gathered in the Water Gardens car park for the start of the 10km trek.

As the clock ticked down to the 10.30pm start time, the walkers made their way to a giant inflatable arch where they were led off by hospice worker Michelle Cooper.

Earlier, a small army of volunteers had manned the registration desks as the walkers signed to take part and receive their goody bags and 'I painted the town pink' T-shirts.

The good-natured crowd were kept entertained by the Heart radio roadshow while Harlow MP Robert Halfon dropped by to give the walkers a few words of encouragement and congratulate the organisers.

"I have never seen so much pink in one place," he quipped.

Half an hour before the start the crowd were encouraged to take part in a mass Zumba warm-up session led by Julie Prickler.

And then it was time to go. A river of pink snaked its way through the town centre before heading for Old Harlow and then returning to the Water Gardens.

First to cross the finish line were friends Gill Lacy, Theresa Howard and Maureen Colson. They, along with everyone else, received a medal in recognition of their efforts.

By the end of the evening the Walk, which is supported by the Star, had received pledges of totalling more than £76,000.

The money which will be used by the hospice to continue its vital work providing a range of services to the terminally ill and people with life-limiting conditions, as well as offering support to their families friends.

A delighted Tracy Straford, events fundraiser for St Clare, said: "Despite heavy rain and thunderstorms in the afternoon, I was absolutely delighted that it stayed dry for the walk."

hospice turns town pink

"Our army of pink walkers didn't let the weather dampen their spirits and the atmosphere was unbelievable. There were some amazing pink fancy dress costumes this year, with lots of people opting for pink PJs and pink brollies."

She added: "The current fundraising pledge for the night is over £76,000 so I'd like to thank everyone who has helped raise this money for the hospice."

"I urge everyone to collect this money as quickly as possible and send it into the hospice so that we can start putting it to good use straight away."

"I have received many emails and messages from walkers saying how much they enjoyed the night but none of it would have been possible without the tremendous support we received from so many local companies and also our wonderful volunteers who helped set up in the rain, on the stalls and marshal the course."

The organisers would like to thank the following for supporting this year's Midnight Walk:

Ford, King Du Noodle Bar, Harlow Star, Heart FM, Water Gardens Centre Management, Asda, Julie Prickle, Speedyhire, Harlow Police, Nando's, Esporta, Kier, Robert Halfon, the Bupa belly dancers, St John's Ambulance, Raynet, Alistage, Noble and Taylor Chipping Ongar, CB Sound Video Light and all 100-plus volunteers.

New era for a market at the heart of town

vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

AFTER months of delays, many people will be delighted to see that renovation work on Harlow's dilapidated Market Square is now under way.

More than 55 years have passed since the first stall traders piled up their goods for business, so the town's marketplace is overdue a facelift.

Yet did you know that the new town almost missed out on having a permanent market?

The original plans had been the handiwork of Harlow masterplanner Sir Frederick Gibberd, who envisaged an open area for local traders who could not afford shop rents.

But according to writer Clare Buster, some individuals who had anticipated an agricultural market or market hall for the area were less than impressed by Sir Freddie's intentions.

"Proposals for a market square were strongly opposed by some members of the Harlow Development Corporation," she wrote in her book, Harlow. "They thought that his ideas would produce an element of brash vulgarity."

It wasn't until the corporation visited the Lansbury market in Stepney – similar to the one proposed for Harlow – that the opposition relented and work on Harlow's first market began.

The official opening took place on May 16, 1956 and was performed by the deputy chairman of the development corporation. However, the market's commemoration stone had already been unveiled the year before by Duncan Sandys, the government minister for housing and local government.

More than 40 stalls selling everything from clothes and records to food and vegetables made up the original market layout.

Operating initially on just Tuesdays and Saturdays, the market proved to be an instant hit with shoppers seeking bargains and goods that were cheaper than shop-priced alternatives.

As the years progressed, additional market days were added – Fridays in 1964 and Thursdays in 1976 – until it was eventually given the go-ahead for five-days-a-week trading.

● Do you remember the opening of Harlow Market? Were you one of the first stall holders? Send your memories to Nostalgia, 6 West Gate, Harlow, CM20 1JW or email vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk.

DO YOU REMEMBER: 1957 Royal visit

WITH Prince Philip in the spotlight after his recent 90th birthday celebrations, Nostalgia thought it fitting to ask readers if they remember when he helped Harlow to celebrate a special anniversary.

To commemorate Harlow's important first 10-year milestone in 1957, both the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh were invited to visit the town to the delight of local residents.

Some 500 extra police were needed to control the excited crowds eager to see the Royal couple, who were given a bird's eye view of the new town from the top of Hugh's Tower, a block of flats near the town centre.

They spent the rest of the day meeting and talking to residents.

➔ A Harlow councillor has called for a ban on nuclear weapons convoys using the M11 which he believes passes dangerously close to the town. Bill Harley said the main fear was the threat of a terrorist attack or a road accident which could cause an explosion.

➔ Harlow police have been asked to make a stand against sexism by removing calendars featuring nude women from their locker room. The request came from two Harlow representatives on the police divisional liaison committee who called the calendars a "passive form of sexual harassment".

➔ Some colourful 'patients' took part in Princess Alexandra Hospital's sponsored bed push on Sunday morning. 12 teams took part in the race from the hospital to the Greyhound pub with plenty of pit stops for loose wheels. One bed even broke in half. Organisers say they hope to have raised £500 for the Harlow Whole Body Scanner Appeal.

Hats the way to spend a day at the races

MILLINER Marie Merritt and eleven friends dressed to impress when they headed off to Ladies' Day at Royal Ascot.

The party, all wearing hats and accessories available from Marie's hat-hire business Hatopia, turned a few heads by travelling up to the Berkshire racecourse in a chauffeur-driven Hummer limousine.

Marie, of Fir Park, Harlow, said: "We always have a fantastic day and it was great to see my hats on display at an event that is renowned for ladies wearing an array of amazing hats!"

"Most ladies don't want to fork out hundreds of pounds on a hat they may only wear once before consigning it to the back of the cupboard, which is why I hit upon the idea of setting up an affordable hat hire business."

Town hits a new high for recycling

THE amount of waste recycled in Harlow has doubled over the past 12 months.

Figures released by Essex County Council this week show the town's environmentally-aware residents recycled nearly 13,000 tonnes of waste during 2010-2011 – double the amount of the previous year and enough to fill five Olympic swimming pools.

Harlow now lies fifth in the recycling league table of all 12 district councils in the county and has the second lowest rate of waste being sent to landfill per household.

Tony Hall, Harlow Council's port-

vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

folio holder for environment, praised the "tremendous" efforts of residents. "Since new collections were introduced in 2009, our recycling rates have doubled from 26 per cent to 52 per cent and now, for the first time ever, the town is recycling more waste than it sends to landfill," he said.

Councillor Hall said the council would continue to do what it can to promote recycling as well as helping people to reduce and reuse their waste, adding: "We are exploring ways to recycle other waste materials when new facilities come on stream within the next three years."

Harlow MP Robert Halfon welcomed the news but said more could still be done to increase recycling rates.

"Our residents and Harlow Council deserve praise for what has been achieved but there is obviously more that we can do to improve the council's standing in the Essex league table," he said.

"We are all only too aware of the importance of recycling and it is vital that we continue to reduce the amount of our household waste that ends up at landfill sites."

Our vision for Harlow's silicon valley

IN today's Star you'll read about our bid to become an enterprise zone.

Does that phrase sound like Government jargon? It really isn't – in layman's language it's about creating jobs, growing our town and making Harlow a great place to live and work.

As you will have read, our ambition is to get the Government's official stamp on two areas of land that are perfect for growing our version of silicon valley for medical technology and manufacturing companies.

The big lure is that enterprise zone status allows for big discounts on business rates – up to £275,000 over five years.

Harlow is one of six applications from the Essex, Kent and Sussex region vying for approval, so we're up against stiff competition. It's decision day today (Thursday) so I'm obviously hoping for good news.

A lot of work has gone into our application. To me it sends a powerful message that our town has a great record in high tech manufacturing and is ambitious to do even more. Our serious and sober estimate is that we could bring nearly 5,000 new jobs to the town if we get EZ approval.

But even if we don't get past this major hurdle, this application is a great demonstration of our business case – and Harlow is very definitely open for business. We need to shout about our advantages in Harlow – our record in high tech, our skilled workforce, our great location – and I'm really pleased the Star has helped us to do that.

● TODAY is also the opening night of the John W Mills sculpture exhibition at the Gibberd Gallery and I do urge Star readers to come and take a look (entry is free).

One of my favourite pieces is the sculpture of Queen guitarist Brian May in rock star pose playing God Save the Queen on the roof of Buckingham Palace (you might remember this from the 2002 Golden Jubilee).

Who says great art can't be popular!

Voyage into the unknown

AN unmanned spacecraft that blasted off from Earth more than over 30 years ago has now reached the edge of the solar system.

Voyager 1 is further away from this planet – 10.8 billion miles – than anything man-made has ever travelled before. And it could cross into the unknown in as little as five years.

Powered by radioactive power packs, the craft is one of two Voyager probes launched by the North American Space Agency (NASA) in 1977 on a mission to explore the outer limits of the solar system.

In 1989 the probes visited planets furthest from Earth – Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus and Neptune – before being sent further into deep space towards the galaxy we know as the Milky Way.

It continually sends information back to the scientists but it's now so far away it takes around 16 hours for a message to reach Earth!

On each side of the probe are golden discs engraved with information about our planet, while inside there are recorded greetings in 52 different languages just in case aliens happen to stumble across the spacecraft!

Voyager project scientist Edward Stone said: "When it was launched, the space age itself was only 20 years old so there was no basis to know that a spacecraft could last so long.

"We had no idea how far we would have to travel to get outside the solar system. We now know that in roughly five years we should be outside it for the first time."

Happy memories of a once thriving market

SIR, I'm sure I'm not the only reader who was delighted to learn that work has finally started on refurbishing Harlow's run-down market (Star, June 16).

As a long-term resident, I have fond memories of Stone Cross market place when it was lively and bustling with a large number of well-supported stalls selling a wide range of goods.

A visit to the market on a Saturday afternoon often entailed a struggle to get through the crowds. You could buy virtually anything on the market and bargain hunters flocked there from all over the region.

In recent years it has been reduced to a shockingly pale shadow of its former self. This has been attributed to a number of factors – the growth in bargain stores and the arrival of the mighty North Weald market to name but two.

I know the traders themselves struggled for years to keep the market buoyant and even came up with the innovative idea that it should be re-launched as a street market along Broad Walk. This suggestion was rejected by the planners, ironic when you see that a handful of retail stalls are now allowed to trade in this pedestrianised area.

Let's hope that Harlow Council's revamp will succeed in luring back the market traders and the shoppers will return to Stone Cross market place. The market is part of the Harlow townscape: let's see it back in business!

Removing goalposts is just a waste of money

SIR, Harlow Council's policy of removing goalposts from Harlow playing fields every June, when the football season ends, is completely illogical.

The operation takes several weeks to complete, costs the council money it clearly doesn't have and leaves Harlow children with even less to do just in time for the Council stands accused of a capital offence

SIR, Congratulations to Harlow Council for its magazine Harlow Times, an excellent production that is both informative and entertaining. But why do they call it 'harlow times'?

Doesn't Harlow warrant a capital letter any more? Has there been a secret council meeting to downgrade Harlow to a lower case town? Who decided that Harlow is now harlow? Shouldn't the townspeople be asked if we want to change the name of our town?

It's bad enough passing the 'harlow leisurezone' (cost £25m) and seeing the mis-spelt name scrawled across the front of that building. Incidentally, 'harlow times' refers to this complex as Harlow Leisurezone. Strange, that.

Is this a good example to present to our schoolchildren? Pity the poor teachers at Harlow College when their students studying literacy start to ignore the rules of grammar.

I note that an award was given to the council, architects and contractors for the Harlow Leisurezone. Is this a case of The Emperor's New Clothes? Shouldn't there have been a small boy there to shout 'Oi, mister, you've spelt Harlow wrong'?

Perhaps, in future, instead of Harlow being known as 'Sculpture Town' it will become better known as 'The Town That Can't Spell Its Own Name'.

Don Hoskyn
Ladysnot, Harlow

Parent & child spaces

SIR, Earlier this month I had to go to Tesco at Church Langley with my children aged three and two.

As there were no 'parent & child' spaces empty I parked in a normal sized space. This meant that there was no room either side of the car to put my buggy.

When I returned to my car I put the buggy up close to the rear of my car and strapped my daughter into her seat first so that she couldn't run off in the car park. As I started to get my son out of his buggy, a woman in a small black car reversed into me.

She was reversing out of a space opposite and obviously did not check her mirrors. If I had not been standing there she would have hit my son in his buggy.

She saw me, held up her hand and drove off without even checking that we were okay. I was so shocked that I didn't get her registration, but I would like to thank her for the backache and shock that she gave me. I am so grateful that she didn't hit my son.

Can I also take this opportunity to ask people not to park unnecessarily in the 'parent & child' spaces. I often see those with older children, those with child seats with no children in them and those who are just popping in parking there.

These spaces are for the safety of young children and so that trolleys/buggies do not have to be left on the road and encounter situations like mine.

Helping addicts quit

SIR, During the past 10 years I have helped people to come off drugs or drink, an enormous fight with some success and some failures.

But my biggest fight is always trying to get the appropriate help in the fastest time possible.

Those who ask for help are the ones that really want to fight their addictions – addictions which can lead them into a life of crime. This in turn can lead to a prison sentence and instant help and medication for their problem while behind bars.

But surely if they had been given this help and support when they asked for it, they would not have committed the crime in the first place!

Not only would this reduce the amount of people in prison for petty crimes, it would also reduce the number of people battling drink and drug addiction.

I would be interested to know if other carers have experienced similar frustrations with the system. Maybe if we share our experiences we can change the way things work.

Cycle conundrum

SIR, I feel compelled to respond to the comments made in letters regarding about Harlow's cycle tracks.

Firstly, I agree that all road users should have some kind of test to ensure competence and ability to use the road safely.

As for the question of why cyclists use roads, I can only say that this seems to be because pedestrians walk on the cycle tracks instead of the footpaths next to the cycle track.

This, it must be said, is probably a reaction to all the cars using the pavements as a car park, so I guess it all comes full circle.

Stop dumping waste

SIR, Oh how I sympathise with Mick Neale and his anger at the dumping of bags of dog excrement on a footpath (Star, June 9). I also admire him for caring.

We also have problems with dog waste and household refuse being dumped on Raddburn Field.

I wish I could meet the dumpers and ask them why they do it. It is so unhygienic and unnecessary.

summer holidays.

The goals aren't replaced with alternative sports equipment and must be re-erected in time for the season to start again in the winter at further cost to Harlow residents. Does anyone know why taxpayers' money is squandered in such a nonsensical fashion whilst elsewhere services are cut and child safety is compromised thanks to a lack of safety warnings resulting from – yes, you guessed it – insufficient funds?

Who exactly is responsible for decisions like this?

Neighbourhood Watch is helping fight crime

SIR, This week is National Neighbourhood Watch Week which represents an opportunity for the thousands of Neighbourhood Watch schemes in the country to promote their work.

Here in Harlow we need more volunteers to assist in our work of acting as the eyes and ears of the community by reporting suspicious, anti-social or criminal activity.

The police need information from the community to help them prevent, detect and prosecute crime and Neighbourhood Watch schemes assist the police by promoting the flow of intelligence to them.

Volunteers benefit from contacts with other volunteers and our regular liaison with the police means they get to learn about useful crime prevention and home security measures. Most insurance companies offer a discount of 10 per cent or more on home contents insurance for members of a registered Neighbourhood Watch scheme such as ours.

Government figures suggest that up to 60 per cent of all crime is drugs-related, which includes the supply of banned drugs such as cocaine and cannabis, and crimes committed by those seeking to feed their habit. Harlow Neighbourhood Watch is therefore marking Neighbourhood Watch Week by holding a meeting open to all on the subject of drugs, at Harlow Civic Centre on Monday (27 June) at 7pm. A police officer will give a presentation on Essex Police's approach to the prevention, detection and prosecution of drug-related crime and answer questions.

Anyone who would like to know more about becoming a Neighbourhood Watch volunteer is welcome to contact me on (01279) 635789.

Cash rolls in after school's wheels about town fundraiser

CHILDREN, staff and volunteers shrugged off bad weather to take part in Harlow Fields School and College's annual wheels about town fundraiser.Wearing fancy dress on a pirates and German theme, they rode in decorated wheelchairs, scooters and specialised bikes or pushed supermarket trolleys along the town's cycle paths to raise more than £190 for school funds.It was one of a number of events taking place as part of the school's community week during which the pupils enjoyedmusic, dance, laughter and arts and crafts workshops.Kathleen Wall, deputy head of the lower school, said the wheels about town event had been held for several years and was originally the idea of the PTA as a simple and fun way to raise money."It has really grown and the children really look forward to it each year," she said. "They love taking part in the whole community week."Local people are always very generous and whatever we raise we are always very grateful for."

Ros celebrates her 60th with a special birthday gift for hospice

KEEP fit instructor Ros Conway celebrated her 60th birthday by presenting a gift of her own to St Clare Hospice.Ros celebrated her special milestone at a surprise party organised by her children.
However, rather than buying her presents family and friends were asked to give the money to the hospice which, as a result, received £250."I always said that if I was to do anything for my birthday it would be for St Clare Hospice because some of my members have had to use their facilities," said Ros, who has been runningRosemary Conley Diet and Fitness classes in Harlow, Epping, Ongar, Loughton,
Brentwood and Sawbridgeworth
for the past nine years."So when my four children were arranging my surprise celebration they informed the invited guests of my wishes and everyone was really great."Tracy Stratford, events fundraiser for St Clare, said: "We want to say a huge thank you to Ros. It is really kind of her to think of the hospice."All the money will go towards helping to care for our patients

Aries Mar 21-Apr 20
This can be an excellent week to get that home office reorganized or to do some improvements to your abode or garden. Yet someone you work with can prove tricky. This could be a demanding boss, or a grumpy colleague. Politics that blow up can drain you. Try to create a cocoon from this. Watching a new film or show can be perfect. Call your special prediction line for more news...

Taurus Apr 21-May 21
Your drive to express yourself can be stronger than for a long time. If you have ideas you want to showcase, you can do so with passion and considerable verve. This is a super time for doing a presentation, and you can wow your audience. The same can be true if you love travel. Here too, your energy can act as a lightning rod for others. Call me now for your in-depth forecast...

Gemini May 22-Jun 21
Something that you've been mulling over in the back of your mind can start to take shape, and it can be a clever idea to make more money linked to your past. A skill that has lain dormant can still come in. If you're negotiating over money, a re-mortgage or to get better terms on a debt, someone may be a bit sharp, so stay guarded. Call now for your financial forecast in full...

Cancer Jun 22-Jul 23
Mercury has arrived in Cancer, helping you to feel a lot more positive. With Mars also egging you on, you are going to feel more like joining in with others. However, one important relationship may have reached an impasse. Have a heart to heart. Perhaps there is a shift in power going on. This may be scary, but can be for the best. Call me for your love scope in full...

Leo Jul 24-Aug 23
Try not to overlook small details, be it on an insurance policy, the deeds of your property or a health appointment. Mars stays high in the sky, giving you plenty of drive and confidence, but do be conscious of those you can really trust and rely upon. Anything that you've been putting off will need addressing, so try not to prevaricate. Call your prediction line for more advice...

Virgo Aug 24-Sept 23
Expect to be in demand, and it can be nice to be so popular, but remember that old maxim of it's impossible to keep all of the people happy, all of the time. A group trip can be planned, and can turn out to be fun, but there could be politics too. With Mars moving into your career zone, you can become far more driven to get ahead. Call me now for more news and astral advice...

Libra Sept 24-Oct 23
Property repairs may not sound very appealing to you, but getting your abode spic and span, can actually give you a great deal of satisfaction. If you're renovating a house in order to sell it on, you can make progress, but don't dodge planning rules. If you feel bored and under stimulated in a role, Mars urges you to look at other options. Call me now for more news and advice...

Scorpio Oct 24-Nov 22
Journeying with one special person could lead to a memorable trip. You can be a strong character, and so can they but you can respect this about one another. However, if you have a parking issue or owe community charges, don't delay in paying them off. Mars, your ruler, also moves into the most passionate of areas. Sparks can fly! Call me now for your financial forecast in full...

Sagittarius Nov 23-Dec 21
A battle of wills over a financial situation can cause concern. If someone owes you money, try to be as diplomatic as possible, but do also be persistent. This will work much better than threatening court action. If you can, pare down costs. You can be feistier when dealing with a rival, and show more confidence in your love life. Call for your financial forecast in full...

Mercury goes opposite Pluto, which is in your sign. You may encounter someone who doesn't agree with you. In fact, they may seem to relish taking the opposite view. Stay cool, for they may be testing your resolve. In love, a big attraction is possible but you need to accept that not everything about them will be absolutely perfect. You can be a lot more emotional this week, and this can see your moods being rather up and down. The trouble is some issues can surface unexpectedly. If you can get life into perspective, perhaps by having a good laugh with a close friend, do. Fortunately, with Mars powering into the liveliest, most sociable of areas, your energy soars. You and someone close may want the same things but may want to go about getting them in different ways. This can lead to tensions, unless both of you take the time to sit down and really talk things through. Once you do, the air can be cleared. Garden the setting for Wilde night out

RAIN won't stop play when an acclaimed theatre group performs an open-air production of The Importance Of Being Earnest at The Gibberd Garden next Friday.

With a simple set, no lighting rig and a cast of just six, DOT Productions' back-to-basics adaptation will rely on the imagination of the audience – and the notoriously unpredictable British weather – to bring Oscar Wilde's razor-sharp comedy of manners to life.

The company is no stranger to

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

outdoor theatre. Last year it toured Essex with an all-female version of Shakespeare's The Comedy Of Errors and producer Louisa-Marie Hunt said the biggest challenge was to keep the audience from becoming distracted by their surroundings.

"We have to be the most interesting thing that the audience can see," she said. "It's all about entertaining them for every second that we are performing."

"If they are more interested in looking at ducks flying overhead then clearly we haven't succeeded and the venues that we are touring are all so distinct that to try and use a huge amount of set would be impossible."

"But the company has developed a big acting style that translates well outdoors while also keeping true to the characters and text, and that is what made last year's tour a success."

Gates will open a full two-and-a-half hours before the show starts to allow the audience to appreciate the surroundings of the garden and set up their own picnic ready for the evening's entertainment.

Lousia-Marie added: "The Gibberd Garden really is the perfect setting for the play."

"We would advise the audience to bring rugs, cushions or even garden chairs, and perhaps waterproofs if it looks likely to rain, which of course it won't!"

The performance begins at 7.30pm on Friday, July 1, with the garden opening at 5pm. Tickets cost £8 (£5 children); to book, contact the Gibberd Garden on (01279) 442112.

Chance to join the 'team' for a late summer outing of cricketing comedy

WARRING couples, boozed-up batsmen and a spot of arson. Sound familiar?

If you missed Global Productions' hilarious take on classic cricketing comedy Outside Edge at The Playhouse last month, there's still time to dust off your pads and practice your swing ahead of a separate production of the same play at Victoria Hall Theatre in Old Harlow later this summer.

Harlow Theatre Company will be the next team taking on the feared British Railways Maintenance Division Yeading East XI and this Sunday the group will be auditioning for new cast members ahead of the play's September run at the Bury Road theatre.

The story is centred on beleaguered team captain Roger, who is having trouble getting his disparate team – all of whom seem to be suffering from marital problems – together in preparation for the afternoon's match. Production manager Jim Thompson told the Star: "This is a fabulous comedy that really looks into the humour of relationships. Many people will already know the story from the various TV versions that have been shown over the years."

"One thing about the show is that there are some great male parts for men in their 30s and 40s, which you don't get too much of these days!"

If you are interested in joining the cast, head to The Victoria Hall Theatre this Sunday (June 26). Auditions will start at 8pm.

Engaging comedy is a certain summer smash

BRIDESMAIDS certificate 15, 2h05m

AFTER months, if not years, of meticulous planning and agonising decisions about the tiniest details, it's ironic that abiding memories of a wedding can often be completely out of the control of the bride and groom.

The dress might be stunning, the cake heavenly and the reception organised with military precision, but the big day can easily become a big disaster thanks to bad weather, unexpected ill health or the rapidly deteriorating sobriety of the best man.

But Paul Feig's raucous comedy of errors proves that anything the guys can do, the gals can do better.

Annie (Kristen Wiig) used to own her own bakery but she has fallen on hard times and now works as a jewellery saleswoman. She assuages the pain with occasional no-strings-attached sex with handsome oaf Ted (Jon Hamm), who clearly has no intention of settling down.

Best friend Lillian (Maya Rudolph) reveals she is getting married and asks a clearly delighted Annie to be maid of honour. Without two dimes to rub together, organising a bridal shower to remember will be tricky for Annie, especially since one of the bridesmaids is socialite wife Helen (Rose Byrne), who splashes cash as if it is going out of fashion.

Fellow bridesmaids Megan (Melissa

McCarthy), Becca (Ellie Kemper) and Rita (Wendi McLendon-Covey) witness the fallout as Annie and Helen vie for Lillian's affections. Meanwhile, Annie unexpectedly kindles a tender romance with police officer Nathan Rhodes (Chris O'Dowd), who despairs at her antics.

Bridesmaids introduces us to a menagerie of neurotic, self-obsessed yet ultimately loveable ladies who are one extra spicy Mexican meal away from catastrophe.

The script is an embarrassment of hysterical riches, anchored by winning performances from a talented ensemble cast who throw vanity to the wind and humiliate themselves for our delight.

It is two hours of pure, unadulterated, filthy-minded joy that will have you crying with laughter as it gently tugs your heartstrings.

Wiig is adorable as the architect of her own downfall and on-screen camaraderie between the actresses is completely believable, while McCarthy steals every frame as the voluptuous singleton with dubious dress senses.

Wiig's romance with O'Dowd is delightful and Hamm mercilessly lampoons his suave Mad Men image. The running time flies by too quickly, culminating in a feel good finale that transports us back to the dizzy heights of 1990s pop chart nirvana.

It's hard to imagine a more uproarious and satisfying comedy all summer, perhaps all year.

>>>still on screen

Green Lantern (3D & 2D) The Green Lanterns maintain peace and justice in the universe using superpowers granted to them by magical rings. When an old adversary called Parallax re-emerges in the Lost Sector, venerated Green Lantern warrior Abin Sur (Temuera Morrison) is fatally wounded and his ring chooses United States Air Force test pilot Hal Jordan (Ryan Reynolds) as a worthy successor. But standing in Hal's way is eccentric scientist Dr Hector Hammond (Peter Sarsgaard), who is exposed to a drop of Parallax's otherworldly powers and mutates into a hideous harbinger of doom.

Bad Teacher Elizabeth Halsey (Cameron Diaz) is a booze-addled wreck who is dumped by her rich boyfriend and reluctantly returns to her teaching job at a high school. Rebuffing the advances of oafish PE master Russell Gettis (Jason Segel), Elizabeth sets her sights on handsome new teacher Scott Delacorte (Justin Timberlake) but he resists her flirtations and begins a tender romance with the school's prim and proper teacher, Amy Squirrel (Lucy Punch). Elizabeth is used to getting her own way and so declares war on Amy.

Kung Fu Panda 2 (3D & 2D) Overweight panda Po (voiced by Jack Black) is living his dream as an all-action bear, honing his skills under the watchful eye of mentor Shifu (Dustin Hoffman). However, he is haunted by fragmented memories which eventually reveal how his father came to be a goose called Mr Ping (James Wong). It transpires that an evil peacock Lord Shen (Gary Oldman) is the cause of Po's deep emotional wounds. Spurred on by a dire warning about pandas from an elderly soothsayer, Shen and his army of snarling wolves are on a collision course with Po. Thankfully, Po can always rely on the Furious Five – Crane (David Cross), Mantis (Seth Rogen), Monkey (Jackie Chan), Tigress (Angelina Jolie) and Viper (Lucy Liu) – to avert disaster.

X-Men: First Class Action-packed prequel based on the hugely popular Marvel Comics sees Erik Lehnsherr (Michael Fassbender) hunting down power-hungry globetrotter Sebastian Shaw (Kevin Bacon). Aided by telepath Charles Xavier (James McAvoy), shape-shifter Raven Darkholme (Jennifer Lawrence) and five gifted mutants – Angel (Zoe Kravitz), Banshee (Caleb Landry Jones), Beast (Nicholas Hoult), Darwin (Edi Gathegi) and Havok (Lucas Till) – Erik must stop Shaw who intends to start a nuclear war.

The Hangover Part 2 Todd Phillips' sequel to the hit 2009 comedy sees dentist Stu Price (Ed Helms) about to marry Lauren (Jamie Chung) in a traditional ceremony in Thailand. Best friends Phil Wenneck (Bradley Cooper), Doug Billings (Justin Bartha) and Alan Garner (Zach Galifianakis) are invited and while Doug makes an early exit, the others party at the resort with the bride-to-be's brother Teddy (Mason Lee). The next morning, Phil, Stu and Alan wake in a sleazy Bangkok hotel room with no recollection of the night before and no sign of Teddy.

Senna Documentary on Brazilian Formula One racing driver Ayrton Senna, who won the F1 world championship three times before his death at age 34.

TRANSFORMERS: DARK OF THE MOON (3D) certificate 12A, 2h34m

The Autobots and Decepticons are back for another spectacular, explosive battle – this time in 3D.

The war between Autobots and Decepticons has been on our doorstep for longer than many realised. Indeed, during the 1960s space race a crashed spacecraft was discovered on the dark side of the moon.

And it is that Cybertronian ship which is the focus of the latest conflict which threatens to destroy Earth.

Led by the fearless Optimus Prime, Autobots Bumblebee, Ratchet, Ironhide and Sideswipe are in a race against time to unlock the ship's secrets before their rivals. If they succeed, the tide could be turned in the awesome final battle.

Once again they'll need the help of their Earthman friend Sam Witwicky (Shia LaBeouf). But this time there's a formidable new robot villain to take on – Shockwave.

Michael Bay's third Transformers film sees top model Rosie Huntington-Whiteley makes her debut in the love interest role, while Josh Duhamel returns as newly promoted Lieutenant Colonel William Lennox.

I'm famous in the USA!

Out the blue last week I was invited to meet an American estate agent who had heard of me out in California!

I was 'gob smacked' to say the least but what an enjoyable meeting it turned out to be. The Americans are so switched on with social medias and asked what I thought of Twitter & Facebook?

Yep, gob smacked for the second time, no idea!

But I have to admit, it's such a rapid progress with communication and after all, our business is all about networking and social contact with buyers and sellers alike.

The younger generation at Howick & Brooker are already using these sources.....and I hear we even have a H&B Facebook page!

In the near future I will also be "networked" on all sorts of fancy communication outlets and, I have to admit (again) I'm scared stiff of the thought of it. Then again, I suppose it's no different from this column, chatting away about property and how its going to change, dramatically. Mark my words it will not be long before there will be huge changes in selling Harlow homes.

ASX- The new crossover from Mitsubishi Just the right size to...

Big enough for a horde of excitable kids, yet small enough to cope with rush hour, the new ASX has been designed for real people with real lives. At home on city streets or open country roads, the higher driving position, class-leading interior space and assured handling have been intelligently packaged to create an agile and versatile family car. And the low CO₂ engines, Auto Stop & Go, energy efficient tyres and advanced alternator control will reduce the size of your carbon footprint, saving you money to spend on living. We call this intelligent Motion.

Scrap

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

Essex County Council

(Footpath No.69 Footbridge, Harlow) (Temporary Prohibition of Use) Order 2011

Further to a notice: Under Section 14(2) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984, which commenced on 20 June 2011.

Notice is hereby given that the Essex County Council has made the above Order under Section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984

Effect of the order: To temporarily close that length of footbridge on Footpath No.69 in the District of Harlow, situated from the junction of Footpath No.69 and Footpaths No.119 and 71 heading south across the River Stort (Navigation) for an approximate distance of 21 metres. The closure is scheduled to commence 25 June 2011 to 1 July 2011 or where appropriate signs are showing and weather permitting, and is required for the safety of the public and workforce whilst essential structural works are undertaken on the bridge by British Waterways. Alternative route will be from the junction of Footpath No.69 and Footpaths No.119 and 71 west along Footpath No.69 towards Pardon Lock and then south along Byway No.127. Proceed east and then south on Footpath No.129 crossing a footbridge. Next head east along Parndon Mill Lane before joining footpath 70 and vice versa.

The Order will come into effect on 25 June 2011 and may continue in force for 6 months, or until the works are finished, whichever is the earlier.

Yim Kong, Assistant Director for Highways, County Hall, Chelmsford.

Rain hits cricket but no ground lost in title race

A HEAVY downpour forced Harlow Town's home game against defending division one champions Farnham to be abandoned but no ground was lost by the Elizabeth Way side in their quest for the title.

Only half of Saturday's game was played and second-placed Town picked up four points from the abandonment, leaving them 10 points behind leaders Theydon Bois.

Theydon also earned four points from their abandoned clash against Newport.

Earlier, Farnham won the toss and decided to bat.

Town's Dan Calver claimed an early wicket, but Farnham recovered thanks to a second-wicket stand of 114 which included good batting from Mike Wilton. He went on to make 66.

Wickets began to fall regularly before Farnham finished with 192-9, a decent score on a damp track.

Calver (4-34) was Town's main wicket taker.

However, the pitch got a lot wetter after torrential rain and both captains agreed to cancel the match 20 minutes after tea.

Shaun Alderson scored a half century for Harlow Tn II (147-8) before their division two match at Matching Green was stopped because of rain.

Rain curtailed Town's other senior matches.

Wade Norcott made his first ton when he scored 103 off just 81 balls as Harlow Town III totalled 183-7 against Albury in division five.

Albury did not bat.

In division seven, Darryl Pettengell struck 56 not out as Harlow Town IV scored 206-7 in their abandoned game.

In division three, both sides bravely played through the rain before the match between Potter Street I (148) and visitors Woodford Wells IV (59-6) was abandoned.

Three of the Woodford Wells players just made it in time after one of the visiting cars missed the Harlow turning on the M11 motorway and was forced to travel an extra 18 miles to Bishop's Stortford and back before getting the right junction!

Stars battle it out for Hastings bests

FIVE victories and four personal bests (PBs) were registered at Hastings by Harlow athletes in the National Young Athletes League Southern Premier Division.

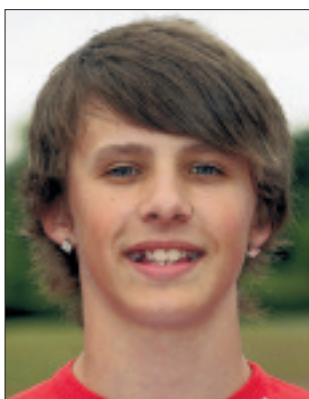

Three comfortable wins were gained by Essex county runners Mark Hall student Canaan Solomon (12), and Burnt Mill pupils Amelia Barrett (14) and Perry Rowan (14) in 1,500m races in Sunday's meeting in East Sussex.

Canaan clocked 4 minutes and 47 seconds to win the U-13 boys race, while Amelia (5:04) and Perry (4:31) respectively triumphed in the U-15 girls and boys races.

Mark Hall pupil Ryan Dunne (16) won the U-17 boys 1,500m steeplechase in 5:25.

Phoebe Fuhr (11) was in excellent form. She won the U-13 girls high jump with a personal best leap of 1.40m, which places her 16th in the UK for that event.

javelin to 29.85m from 22.85m in coming second in the U-15 girls competition.

This puts her 21st in UK and third in the East region.

Mark Hall pupil Tyler Bown (16) showed improved form to come third in the U-17 boys 200m with a PB of 23.1s.

Rosie Poole (12), from Stewards School, achieved a fine second spot and a PB of 4:16.3 in the U-13 girls 1,200m.

Her training partner Alicia McArdell (13), from Mark Hall School, was third in the U-15 girls 800m in 2:32.

Jodie Ratcliff (12), a Mark Hall School student, grabbed a PB of 2:41 and a fine fourth in the U-13 girls 800m.

Fifteen-year-old Passmores School pupil Isobel Moss came third in the U-17 girls 3km in 11:48.

Their efforts helped their club, Woodford Green with Essex Ladies, to remain in the Southern Premier League in their last meeting of the season.

Meanwhile, Markus Hunt (20), from Harlow, was 4th in the senior men's 400m in 48.4s at the South of England Championships in Ashford, Kent.

Kirsty McIntosh (23) also nabbed 4th spot in the senior women's pole vault (3.50m).

Canaan Solomon and Perry Rowan secured runaway victories in Year 7 and Year 9 1,500m races, respectively clocking 4:50 and 4:26 in the Harlow Schools Athletics Championships at Mark Hall School last Wednesday.

Burnt Mill student Rian McKnight (13) set a PB of 2:28 when he won the year 8 800m race and a victory was also secured by Drew Sheekey (12), from Mark Hall, when she won the Year 7 boys 800m race in 2:38.

Boss swoops for defender

ON THE MOVE: Hawks boss Danny Chapman, right, has signed defender Kevin Stevens and could bring in Aveley striker Billy Holland, main picture MANAGER Danny Chapman has further bolstered his Hawks defence with the signing of centre-half Kevin Stevens from Blue Square Bet South club Boreham Wood.

Stevens' signature comes shortly after former Harlow Town player manager Ryan Kirby re-joined the Barrows Farm club.

Chapman said: "I saw him the year before last and Kevin comes to us highly recommended. He can play in a few positions.

"He is a centre-half and can play at right-back or right wing back."

He added: "He has played in the Conference South. He has pace and knows what it's all about.

"He had offers to go to Bishop's Stortford and Billericay but wants to play for Harlow."

His arrival certainly gives Harlow plenty of options in the heart of defence.

Chapman will also be running the rule over striker Billy Holland.

Holland was at Aveley last season and was in the Waltham Abbey side that played in Ryman League division one north in 2008-09 and the Ryman premier division in 2009-10.

Chapman said: "I have known him for a long time and he's a goalscorer at this level. He will be on trial for us."

The Harlow manager is also talking to a left-back that played for a Ryman League premier division club last term. He refused to name this player at this stage, as he does not want to alert other clubs as to his availability.

Chapman also hopes to bring Spurs Academy left-back-cum-left midfielder Danny Day on board.

Day trained with Harlow at the end of last season and impressed with his approach. He was unable to play due to registration problems.

"I have had talks with Alex Inglethorpe [the Spurs U-18 manager] and hope to have him for the pre-season. He has a good pedigree about him."

The Hawks boss has already signed centre-half Ryan Kirby, Ware midfielder Max Mitchell, Grays midfielder Jon Docker and Redbridge keeper Elliott Justham.

Chapman has expressed a desire to have a squad of around 27 for the pre-season but this will be reduced. "This will be cut to around 18 to 20 [for the start of the league campaign]," he added.

Pay a pound to watch Hawks

A STRONG drive to encourage youngsters to watch Harlow Town FC is being made with a £1 matchday entrance fee!

Children under 16 will pay that amount for the Hawks home games in Ryman League division one north next season.

Last season there was a charge of up to £5 for U-16s before a few free entrances were granted near the end of the season.

Hawks co-owner Tommy Cunningham, right, said: "We have a core support of 200 and we need to build the support up. The way to do that is through the young coming in."

There is also good news for adult fans as Harlow are holding their season ticket prices at the same level as for the 2010-11 season.

Adults will pay £125, and adult and partner tickets cost £185. Youth fans (16-18) will pay £75.

The admission fee on a matchday has been frozen at £9 - £3 cheaper than Hawks' close neighbours Bishop's Stortford.

Cunningham explained: "We know things are difficult for people. They have been for us.

"As successful as we were last season, we are still playing at the same level. Our costs have increased and we will take that on board ourselves."

He added: "We want to encourage people to come to the club. There is a positive atmosphere."

Cunningham said that the club is moving forward and is confident that support for it can grow significantly. "There is a different attitude to the club and it's progressing. We started well last season but after results fell away we picked it up and pushed on," he said. "We want to go on and win the league and if

THE practise facilities at Harlow Cricket Club have been boosted by the arrival of a £44,000 outdoor nets zone, writes DAVID RIMMER.

Three Astroturf pitches with nets have been installed at the Marigolds club in Old Harlow and these were officially unveiled by Harlow Council Chairman Mike Garnett last Thursday.

Harlow Cricket Club currently has more than 140 members between the ages of 5 and 18 and the nets will help to improve their cricketing skills.

Club volunteers demolished the old nets area which included digging out concrete blocks.

The Shepherd Neame Essex League club has received generous funding from a number of sources, including Essex County Council through its Community Initiative Fund which contributed around £32,000.

Additional funding has been received from the MCC (Marylebone Cricket Club) Foundation, The Essex and Southend Sports Trust and charities including the Lords Taverners, the Mulberry Trust and Fowler, Smith and Jones.
